GERMANIA FIRE INS. Co., E. L. Schmidt, ag't, 5th st CHIEF JUSTICE CHASE'S health has suffered much from a recent attack of chills at Narragansett Pier, where he is passing the summer with his eldest daughter and her husband.

> THE PRESIDENT and General Porter leave here to-night for Long Branch, accompanied by Secretary Fish, who goes to his country residence on the Hudson. Secretary Boutwell goes to Groton to-night.

> THE POLITICAL SITUATION IN LOUISIANA Colonel George W. Carter, of the Louisiana Legislature, has had an interview with the President, to urge measures for the unification of the republican party in Louisiana. The President is willing to accept the resignation of his brother-in-law, Collecter Casey, whenever the Louisiana delegation in Congress will unite on the name of his successor.

> THE WHEAT CROP .- The latest report of the Agricultural Department states that improvement in the condition of wheat is reported from New York, Maryland, Virginia, Michigan, Missouri, Kansas, and to a slight degree in some other states; while a decline is reported in Ohio and in some of the southern states. The average condition for the United States is almost exactly the same as in June, or 94; six per cent. les than the average.

DIPLOMATIC PERSONALS .- SirEdward Thornton, the British Minister, left Washington last evening for Lurel Hill, Newburyport, where his family have been spending the summer. The new French Minister, the Marquis de Noailles, arrived last night, and is staying at

DEATH OF JOHN POTTS, ESQ., CHIEF CLERK OF THE WAR DEPARTMENT.-We are pained to announce the death, in the 55th year of his age, of John Potts, Esq., for many years past the well known and esteemed chief clerk of the War Department, which occurred this morning at half-past two o'clock, at his residence, on 17th street, between H and I streets, after a brief but severe illness. No man stood higher in the estimation of the community than Mr. Potts, and he always enjoyed the confidence of all associated with him. As a public officer he was ever efficient and faithful in the discharge of his duties, and probably disbursed a arger sum of money than any other disbursing officer of the government. He was a native of this District, and occupied the position of chief clerk of the War Department for the past thirteen years, having been emploped in the Department for the past thirty-six years. He was a member of the Epiphany (P. E.) Church, and also of the vestry thereof, at the time of his death. The late Secretary Stanton always esteemed Mr. Potts very highly, and frequently spoke of him as a man who could not be cor-rupted. The disease from which he died was local dropsy and general derangement of intes-

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 5 o'clock, and the following named gentlemen will act as pall bearers: Secretary Belknap, Surgeon General Barnes, Assistant Surgeon General Crane, General Park, General Shriver, Adjutant General Townsend, R. S. Chew, Esq., chief clerk State Department, and William B. Lee, Esq., of the War Department. He leaves a wife and two sons and two daugh ters, all of whom are grown. One of his sons is n the army and the other in the navy. Mr. Potts was to sail for Paris on the 31st., with his daughter, Miss Rose Potts, who was to be married there to a Russian gentleman. The War department was draped in mourning to-day in respect to his memory, and the follow-ing general order was issued by Secretary Belknap;

Secretary of War.

A meeting of the employees of the War Department and its bureaus was called to-day, for the purpose of taking suitable cognizance of the death of Mr. Potts, and Mr. H. T. Crosby, acting chief clerk, was called to the chair, and Dr. W. T. Barnard appeinted secretary of the meeting. Mr. Crosby, on assuming the chair, made a few appropriate remarks, after which a committee, consisting of Messrs. Richard M. Hanson, chief clerk Commissary General's office; R. Duryee, War Department, and Wm. J. Warren, were appointed a committee to draft a series of resolutions expressive of the feelings of the meeting. The resolutions reported by the committee were unanimously adopted. The clerks of the department have determined upon accompanying the body of their chief to his grave in a body, in carriages, and will meet in the War Department building at 4:30 p. m. the 25th, for that purpose. 25th, for that purpose.

Spotted Tail Received by the President.

HE HOPES GEN. GRANT WILL BE RE-ELECTED. AS HE HAS BEEN A PRIEND TO THE INDIANS. This morning, between ten and eleven o'clock, Spotted Tail and the Indian delegation accompanying him, had an interview with the President at the Executive Mansion by appointment. There were present Indian Commissioner Walker, Indian Agent Risley, Mr. Welch, of Philadelphia, and others. After the usual handshaking, the Indians arranged themselves on the east side of the President's office, while the President and Spotted Tail, together with the interpreter, occupied an open window on the south. The conversation was opened by Spotted Tail, who said, through the interpreter, that he was somewhat tired now, but would have something to say to the President to-morrow. The President replied that he would not be in town to-morrow, but that Spotted Tail could communicate with the Secretary of the Interior and Commissioner of Indian Affairs, who acted by his authority. The President said he under-stood that Spotted Tail wanted to talk about the change of the location of the agency. H would not force this change, but tho would be better for the Indians themselves, as $60,000 would thus be saved in transportation and the money expended for the benefit of the Indians. Spotted Tail replied: "Those young men whom you see around you are good men; and as I cannot give you an answer I will take counsel with them to-day as to what it is best for us to do." The President again informed them that they could make the result of their conference known to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs. Indian Agent Risley said to the President, Since I have been among these Indians I have found them not only peaceable, but having disposition to preserve friendship with the whites," and also said that Spotted Tail had always counselled peace and insisted that the orders of the government must be obeyed, Spotted Tail said he had a few words to say to the President, "I understand that there is to b a new election for President in a few months hope you will be successful as you have always been very kind to us Indians. The President replied, "Whatever may be the result I hope there will be no change in the Indian policy of the government." The interview here ended, and, after again shaking hands, the Indians departed. THE PLOT TO BURN NORTHERN CITIES .- The letter of Jacob Thompson to J. P. Benjamin. secretary of state of the southern confederacy, found among the confederate archives which have recently been sold to this government, shows that Thompson was the regularly authorized agent of the confederacy, both for the pur pose of procuring the burning of New York. Philadelphia, St. Louis and Cincinnati, and for organizing a counter revolution at the north. For these purposes Thompson and his associates, Clay, Holcombe and Saunders, were supplied with one million dollars in gold, and in furthertion with residents at the north, and met some of them personally at Niagara. The St. Albars raid and the attempt to free the confederate pr soners at Johnson's island were some of the regults. It is said this letter possesses the great est public interest of all the documents which have thus far been examined. It is very long, and details with minuteness the proceedings of Thompson and his associates. The papers are all in the custody of the Treasury department

THE PRESIDENT AND SENATOR SCHURZ .-The charge made by Senator Schurz, in his St. Louis speech, to the effect that he had been offered official patronage by President Grant or his friends, to vete against his convictions of duty has been brought to the attention of the President, who pronounces the whole statement, as far as it attempts to reflect on him, as absolutely unfounded in fact. In no way was any one ever authorized to tender to Mr. Schurz or any other Senator the control or use of any patronage for his approval of the San Domingo annexation policy or any other measure of this administra-tion. The President expresses his earnest desire that Mr. Schurz will at once publish the letter he claims to have relative to this pretended proffer, in order that if any one has so imposed upon the Senator it may lead to a full expose of the dishonest motives and character of such person. Will the Senator produce his proof or

H. G's Letter of Acceptance, No. 2. The following is Mr. Greeley's letter, accepting the Baltimore nomination, in reply to the letter of the committee appointed to notify him

GENTLEMEN: Upon mature deliberation it seems fit that I should give to your letter of the 10th instant some further and fuller response than the hasty unpremeditated words in which I acknowledged and accepted your nomination at our meeting on the 12th instant.

That your convention saw fit to accord its highest honor to one who had been prominently and pointedly opposed to your party in the earnest and sometimes angry controversies of the last forty years is essentially noteworthy. That many of you liberal republicans should present another candidate for President, and would more rapidly have united with us in the support of Adams or Trumbull, Davis or Brown, is well known. I owe my adoption at Baltimore wholly to the fact that I had already been nominated at Cincinnati, and that a concentration of forces upon any new man had been proved impracti-

Gratified as I am at your concurrence in the Cincinnati nemination, and certain as I am that you would not have thus concurred had you not deemed me upright and capable, I found nothing in the circumstance calculated to inflame vanity or nourish self-conceit. But that your convention saw fit to reaffirm the Cincinnati platform is to me a source of the profoundest satisfaction. That body was constrained to take this step by no party necessity, real or supposed. It might have accepted the candidates of the liberal republicans upon grounds entirely its own, or it might have presented them as the first whig convention did Harrison and Tyler, without adopting any platform whatever. That it chose to plant itself deliberately, by a vote nearly unanimous, upon the fullest and clearest enunciation of principles which are at once incontestibly republican and emphatically democratic, gives trustworthy assurance that a new and more auspicious era is dawning upon our long distracted country. Some of the best years and best efforts of my life were devoted to a struggle against chattel slavery, a struggle none the less earnest and arduous because respect for constitutional objections constrained me to act for the most part on the defensive in resistance to the diffusion, rather than in direct efforts for the extinction, of human bondage.

Throughout most of these years my vision wa uncheered, my exertions were rarely animated by even so much as a hope that I should live to see my country peopled by freemen alone. The affirmance by your convention of the Cincinnati platform is a most conclusive proof that not merely is slavery abolished, but that its spirit is extinct; that despite the protests of a respectable, but isolated, few, there remains among us no party and no formidable interest which re grets the overthrow or desires the re-establishment of human bondage, whether in letter or in spirit. I am thereby justified in my hope, and trust that the first century of American Independence will not close before the grand elemental truths on which its rightfulness was based by Jefferson and the Continental Congress of 76 will no longer be regarded as glitter-ing generalities, but will have become the uni-versally accepted and honored foundations of our political fabric. I demand the prompt application of these principles to our existing con-Having done what I could for the complete emancipation of the blacks, I now insist on the full enfranchisement of all my white countrymen. Let none say that the ban has just been removed from all but a few hundred elderly gentlemen to whom eligibility to office can be of little consequence. My view contemplates not the hundreds proscribed, but the millions who are denied the right to be ruled and represented by men of their own unfettered choice. Proscriptions were absurd if these did not wish to elect the very men whom they are forbidden to choose. I have a profound regard for the people of that part of New England wherein I was born, in whose common schools I was taught. I rank no people above them in intelligence, capacity, and moral worth; but while they do many things well, and some admirably, there is one thing they cannot safely or wisely undertake, and that is the selection for states remote from and unlike their own, of the persons by whom these states shall be represented in Congress. If they could do this to good purpose, then republican institutions are unfit and aristocracy the only true political system. Yet, what have we recently witnessed? Z. B. Vance, the unquesioned choice of a large majority of the present Legislature of North Carolina, a majority backed by a majority of the people who voted at its election, refused the seat in the Federal Senate to which he was chosen, and the legislature thus constrained to choose another in his place or leave the state unrepresented for years.

The votes of New England thus deprived North Carolina of the Senator of her choice, and compelled her to send another in his steadanother who in our late contest was, like Vance, a rebel, and a fighting rebel, but had not served in Congress before the war as Vance had, though the latter remained faithful to the Union till after the close of his term. I protest against the disfranchisement of a state, presumptively of a number of states, on ground a parrow and technical as this. The fact that the same Senate which refused his seat proceeded to remove his disabilities after that seat had been filled by another, only serves to place in a stronger light the indignity to North Carolina.

and the arbitrary, capicious tyranny which dictated it. I thank you, gentlemen, that my name is to be conspiciously associated with yours in a determined effort to render amnesty complete and universal in spirit as well as in letter. Even de feat in such a case would leave no sting, while triumph would rank with those victories which no blood reddens, and which evoke no tears but those of gratitude and joy. Gentlemen, your platform, which is also mine.

issures me that democracy is not henceforth to stand for one thing and republicanism for another; but these terms are to mean in politics, as they have always meant in the dictionary substantially one and the same thing, namely, equal rights, regardless of creed or clime or color. Thail this as a genuine new departure from outworn fends and meaningless contentions in the direction of progress and reform.

Whether I shall be found worthy to bear the standard of the great liberal movement which the American people have inaugurated is to be determined, not by words, but deeds-with me. if I steadily advance; over me if I falter, its grand array moves on to achieve for our country her glorious beneficent destiny. I remain, gentlemen, yours, HORACE GREELEY.

NORTH CAROLINA CAMPAIGN REPUBLICAN MEETING AT RALEIGH TO-DAY.

Speech of Secretary Delano.

Able Defence of the Administration.

[Special Dispatch to Evening Star.] RALEIGH, N. C., July 21 .- A large and enthusiastic Grant and Wilson meeting was held here this afternoon. A very able speech was made by Secretary Delano, of which the following is a synopsis: FINANCIAL.

The extinguishment of the public debt has been effected under a heavy simultaneous reduction of taxation made by the republican party. At the termination of the war that party addressed itself to such reduction, and this policy has been pursued as fast as was consistent with the public credit and the necessary actual expenses of the government. By the acts of July 13, 1806, March 2, 1867, February 3, 1868, and March 31, 1869, reductions were made in taxation which would have yielded for the three years of this administration, had the taxes been continued, $589,459,000. By the acts of July 4, 1870 and June 6, 1872, the excise tax was reduced to the extent of $75,651,000 per annum; and by the acts of July 4, 1870, May 1, and June 6, 1872, the tariff duties were reduced to the extent of $54,809.588 per annum, making a total reduction of taxes yearly of $130,460,580 during the three years of General Grant's administration. The republican party has been able, in the face of these reductions, to extinguish so much of the public debt by faithfully and efficiently administering the revenue laws and by honestly applying the money collected. The facts prove the truth of this assertion. The total receipts from spirits, tobacco, fermented liquors, banks and bankers, gas, adhesive stamps and penalties from March , 1869, to February 29, 1872, during the first three years of General Grant's administration, were $339,350,353. The total receipts from the same articles from March 1, 1866, to February 28, 1869, being the three last years of Mr. Johnson's administration, were $231,153,714, thus showing a margin in favor of this administration, in three years, of $108,202,639, being an average increase from these sources of over $36,000,000 annually. This illustration may be carried out as applicable to the entire field of revenue collections and taxation, and it furnishes a clear and satisfactory guarantee for the ability of the administration to reduce the public debt in the face of such an excessive reduction of the taxes. The duties on tea, coffee, and many other articles of necessity for consump-tion and manufacturing were removed by the acts above reterred to, and the excise has been limited to spirits, fermented liquors, tobacco, banking, patent medicines, and stamps upon checks, and it will thus be seen that direct tax-

The credit of the country has improved in a degree most satisfactory to every patriotic mind. The price of our securities has constantly advanced; and, although, at the commencement of the present adm nistration they were below the par value of gold from 15 to 17 per cent., to-day we dare boast that American secu rities are equal in value to gold. The appreciation of our paper has been marked by the fall of gold from $1.32 in 1869, to $1.10 and $1.12 in 1872. These, and like considerations, have already enabled the government to place its public securities at a greatly reduced rate of interest, and the same causes, if continued, will enable us to call in the balance of our six per cent. loan, and place it at a rate of interest from our to five per cent. The public credit has been lifted to its present enviable and exalted position by the republican Congress which came in with this administration. The fact that the re peal of the revenue has equalled $100,000,000 annually is a sufficient explanation for the rapid progress that has been made in the payment o the public debt. For myself I do not consider it desirable to extinguish this debt too rapidly hereafter. Such taxation should be imposed as will meet a moderate reduction each year, and at the same time defray the necessary expenses of the government. Contemplating our vast national resources, it may be confidently predicted to be an easy task, in the hands of honest agents, for this nation to preserve its faith and pay its debt within twenty years; and during this time the people will enjoy such physical comfort and prosperity as are allotted to no other nation on the globe. INDIAN POLICY.

I feel compelled in these remarks to refer briefly to what is known as the Indian policy of the present administration. It is not denied on the part of the government that there are occasional acts of theft, robbery and murder by Indians. These have been most frequent in Arizona and on the Texas frontier; but they have often been provoked and increased by the cruel and wicked conduct of bad white men. These acts of outrage have not been committed by organized tribes, na-tions, or bands of Indians, but, on the contrary, by individual or a sociated Indians, acting independent of the wishes of their nation and

Although not prepared with figures for an accurate comparison, yet I venture to say that the proportion of lawless violence, resulting in danger to lite and property, is much greater in the city of New York than among many if not all of our Indian tribes, and that a greater propor-tion of the criminals go unpunished in that city than among the Indians.

There having been, during the existence of this administration, an organized and systematic attack upon its Indian policy, by denying that any good has been accomplished; by exaggerating, for sensational purposes, every wrong committed by the Indians, and sometimes by asserting that Indian outrages had been committed when such assertions were without foun-dation in fact, I have resolved to expose these misrepresentations, especially when it has be-come apparent that they are to be persevered in for party and political purposes.

Upon the authority of the able and efficient Commissioner of Indian Affairs, Gen. Francis A. Walker, I assert that during the present year more than 25,000 Indians have been added to the number of those directly under the control of the government. During the three years of the present administration more than 80,000 Indians have been brought to agencies and placed under the supervision of agents. Not to exceed 50,000 are still roaming beyond such supervision, and it is expected that the present year will see that number so far reduced that, abstantially, the whole Indian race within the United States will be settled upon reservations. These reservations are located with reference to allowing the finest development of railroad com-munication, the largest extension of agricultu-ral settlement, and the safety of white citizens, and with a view of securing the best interests of of the Indians and affording them an opportu-nity to learn the arts and customs of civilized

Of the 293,000 Indians within the limits of the United States, exclusive of Alaska, it is estimated that 130,000 are new supporting themselves upon their own lands, receiving absolutely nothing from the government beyond me interest of their own money, or annuities granted them in consideration of lands ceded by them to interest of their own money, or annuities granted them in consideration of landsceded by them to the government. These lands have been sold by the government to actual settlers at many times the amount paid the Indians for them. The aggregate cost during the past year of the subsistence of the 113,000 Indians at agencies, who are in whole or in part subsisted by the government, was $2,446,000, which sum also includes the excessive rates for transportation of supplies, which prevail in these distant radions. This sum divided among 113,000 Indians gives an average of only $21.50 per head, from which fact it may readily be perceived that a large proportion of these Indians are already becoming self-supporting. Fifty or sixty agents, with a force of assistants, are engaged in instructing these people to break up their own lands, build their own fences and cabins, saw their own lumber, and grind their own corn, as well as to speak in our language and write in our alphabet. The total amount appropriated for the Indian service in the fiscal year ending July 1, 1872, including all deficiency appropriations, was $6,055,774 69, of which sum $1,277,897.66 was appropriated in the sense that it gave the administrative officers of the government authority to pay to, or expend in behalf of the Indians, moneys belonging to them. Of the sum appropriated over $300,000 remained unexpended at the close of the year, thus reducing the actual expenses of this gigantic service below four and a half million dollars.

Single wars of the United States with single tribes of Indians has cost as high as forty millions of dollars. It is estimated that every Indian killed in the Florida war, the Sioux war of 1852 and 1834 and the Cheyenne war of 1864, cost the government a million of dollars and the lives of twenty white men. And yet these wars never settle anything. The Indians still remain to be annihilated by force of arms, or to be wen over to us by kind and conciliatory actions and in the end made one with the whites by mutual sympathy and a common devotion to a common country and the same Heavenly Father. Let those who, from lack of information, are it credulous; who desire revenge and punishment; who wish to revive the host of faithless gents and centractors who flourished under the old system, that they may rob both the Indians and the government, answer to God and a Christian nation whether they will destroy the present policy of peace and restore the former ystem of robbery, inhumanity, war, bloodshed, and crime.

CHARGES AGAINST GENERAL GRANT. General Grant is charged with being inattentive to the duties of his office and with recreating at watering places. Those who know anything of the labors of a President of the United States understand that he does no more of this than is necessary; and also that no public business suffers by reason of any neglect of his. They should remember his four long years of war which, followed by the exhaustive daties of his office. absolutely require all the relaxation he takes. They should remember the result of his recreations before Donaldson, at Shiloh, before Vicksburg, in the mountains of Chattanooga and Chickamauga, in the Wilderness, before Richmond, and finally at Appointtox. Remembering these facts, some patience and indulgence is commended to those who now think that every day of his life, during a hot mid-summer, after his necessary toil and labor, should be spent in the city of Washington.

The charges that the President receives gitts is so apparently unjust as to justify the epithet, of meanness and audacity. The President, without wealth, entered the army with the patriotic desire of aiding in the preservation of the Union, hazarding life and health during four long years of danger and hardship. He rose in rank enly as his merit and victories justified. During these years of toil and labor for him, many private fortures were made and others augmented. The government grants no title of nobility nor settles estates in the form of annuities upon her tenefactors; but a sense of generosity and justice prompted certain persons of large means to offer him, before he was spoken of for President, such testimonials of their regard and esteem as should contribute to the moderate wants of himself and family. These offerings were the spontaneous outpourings of generous feelings, creditable to the donors and honorable to the nation, and were fitting evidences of the sentiment of justice that characterizes the American people. How envy or party malice, or political rivalry can torture these noble deeds into acts to be censured and condemned, passes the comprehension of all reasonable men.

ATTACK ON SAN LUIS POTOSI-THE REVOLUTION IN TAMAULIPAS SUPPRESSED AGAIN.
MATAMORAS, July 22.—The government forces having been generally withdrawn from San Luis Potosi when General Rocha advanced on Monterey, the revolutionary General Mar-tinez took the opportunity to attack San Luis with about six hundred cavalry, but after a fight of several hours was repulsed by the national guard and citizens with considerable loss. Gen. Rocha has dispatched a cavalry force in pursuit. Both parties at Monterey are inactive. The revolutionists in the state of Tamaulipas having been suppressed, the whole frontier of the states of Nuevo-Leon and Coahuila is in possession of the government, leaving the insurgents without a port or single point of impartance. The country being practically pacified, the authorities to-day issued a proclamation raising the siege, annulling martial law, abolishing the passport system, and other military restrictions which have prevailed for several months, and restoring civil rule. Colonel Ramerez's regiment arrived from Monterey this morning and will occupy the fortifications, relieving the National Guard, which will be disbanded. General Ceballos is expected soon to assume command of the line of the Rio Grande. General Rocha, at Monterey, will operate against the revolutionists still in the mountains. that the cor Trevino and Quiroga have made terms with the government, and that the revolutionary chiefs will submit to the authority of President Juarez or leave the country after disbanding their tollowers.

Reliable information has been received in this city that the Geneva board of arbitration will not be able to close their labors within a shorter period than three or four months. The tribunal is still engaged in the discussion of the question of England's liability to the United States for damages arising from the acts of confederate cruisers. The English agent pleads that her Majesty's government did everything that it was possible to do within the limit of the laws and constitution to prevent privateers from leaving the ports of Great Britain. The debates are animated but serious, and are confined closely to the point at issue. The board holds no session to-day.
